FOREWORD BY CHIEF EXECUTIVE

The UCOL Academic Quality Management System (AQMS) is the collation of all policies and procedures directly related to academic matters, and the services that support teaching and learning.

The purpose of the AQMS is to provide a coherent and reliable operational framework that enables the highest possible quality of educational activities (teaching and learning). Its policies, procedures, guidelines and forms/templates provide for consistency of the student experience while studying at UCOL.

The AQMS has been refreshed in 2016 as part of the review of academic policies and procedures to reflect changes in UCOL's strategy, structures and processes which occurred in 2015 and 2016. It was agreed by the Academic Board to maintain the identity and existence of the AQMS, though it is preferred that over time all of UCOL's policies and procedures are placed within a single Quality Management System (including academic and other policies). In the meantime, the AQMS clusters UCOL's academic policies and procedures within the 12 Academic Standards approach of the previous quality assurance body (QAB), the Institutes of Technology and Polytechnics New Zealand (ITPNZ), and remains useful and recognisable for users.

AN OVERVIEW

THE ORGANISATION, MANAGEMENT & QUALITY

1 The Institution

- 1.1 The Universal College of Learning – UCOL, is a Polytechnic under the Education Act 1989, with three major campuses in the lower North Island: Palmerston North, Whanganui and Masterton and a further campus in Auckland.

2 UCOL's Strategic Story 2015 - 2018

In 2015 we refined our vision, our mission, and our goals, creating an inspirational strategic story that charts our pathway over the next four years and defines our intended outcomes.

2.1 UCOL's Vision:

To inspire students, businesses and communities to succeed.

This vision is supported by our Mission, which focuses sharply on our students. As a provider of tertiary education we want to help each student, domestic and international, to develop their full potential.

2.2 UCOL's Mission:

Develop great graduates who make a difference wherever they work in the world.

Our mission is founded on four goals that form the cornerstones of our strategic story.

2.3 UCOL's Values:

UCOL has values which guide it to strive for excellence in education, training and research; to equip students to meet the demands of the workplace; to encourage the participation of communities so as to enhance their educational opportunities; and to place particular emphasis on communities under-represented among the students of UCOL.

2.4 UCOL's Goals

2015-2018 Goals:

- Individuals choose UCOL as their preferred provider of learning;
- Our students succeed;
- We collaborate with key stakeholders to find unique solutions and mutually beneficial outcomes;
- We are a high performing tertiary education institute.

3 Commitment to Quality

- 3.1 UCOL recognises its obligation under the Education Act to “strive to ensure the institution attains the highest standards of excellence in education, training and research” (Education Act 1989 s181 (a))
- 3.2 Educational excellence is considered as an integrated approach to organisational performance within UCOL which results in:
- The delivery of educational programmes that continuously improve in meeting the needs of students and stakeholders
 - The improvement of overall organisational effectiveness and capabilities, and
 - Organisational and personal learning.
- 3.3 UCOL considers that quality is one component of ‘excellence’ and that a commitment to institutional research, critical reflection and continuous quality improvement will assist the institution achieve excellence.
- 3.4 UCOL believes that quality is determined largely by the extent to which its services successfully meet the needs of its students and other stakeholders, including their perception of value for money.
- 3.5 UCOL recognises that it has many external stakeholder groups. Whilst students are a major group, others include Iwi, industry, government and the community.
- 3.6 UCOL is committed to meeting its obligations under the Treaty of Waitangi. UCOL’s Academic Statute provides for the participation of Māori by ensuring appropriate representation on Academic Board and related committees.
- 3.7 UCOL is committed to providing and maintaining quality in all aspects of its business.

4. Quality Management

- 4.1 UCOL’s Academic Quality Management System (AQMS) is a documented system of policies and procedures designed to provide confidence to students and other stakeholders that academic programmes and other services will be delivered consistently and reliably.
- 4.2 The AQMS was developed by UCOL to provide a framework for quality assurance and a written record of established quality processes, thus promoting greater consistency of practice.
- 4.3 UCOL’s AQMS is continually undergoing development in order to improve its effectiveness and consistency of application.
- 4.4 Policies and procedures are designed to ensure that opportunities for continuous quality improvement are translated into actions and that these are subsequently reviewed to ensure continued effectiveness.

- 4.5 UCOL uses the NZQA Self Assessment model to evaluate its quality systems.
- 4.6 Staff feedback is sought and incorporated into the development and review of policies and procedures.

5. Approach to Academic Quality

- 5.1 UCOL's Academic Statute is the basis of its AQMS. It is the legal instrument that provides the authority by which UCOL's qualifications are awarded. In doing so it provides the framework for the processes and accountabilities for academic quality assurance within UCOL. All policies and procedures must comply with the provisions of the Academic Statute.
- 5.2 Particular attention is paid to removing barriers to student access to tertiary education and subsequent barriers to student success. At the same time UCOL seeks to maintain high standards for its qualifications and the achievement of its students. UCOL is vitally concerned with helping students to succeed, but recognises that this must not be at the expense of lowered academic standards.
- 5.3 A fundamental part of the quality philosophy is to meet and exceed student expectations. Particular attention is paid to student feedback from a variety of sources, not least student surveys and programme evaluations. At the same time, UCOL fully recognises that a critical focus should be on the transformative nature of education. Part of the education process is to challenge students' academic expectations as they progress through study at UCOL.

6. Responsibilities for Academic Quality within UCOL

- 6.1 Quality is the responsibility of each and every member of staff. Academic quality is primarily a professional issue supported by institutional systems, policies and procedures, rather than being simply a function of management. A commitment by staff to undertake their roles efficiently and effectively as well as a willingness to improve existing practices and be innovative are a fundamental responsibility.
- 6.2 A range of quality control and quality assurance mechanisms are implemented throughout UCOL to ensure that it consistently meets the needs of its stakeholders in delivering quality programmes. Council has delegated the oversight of Quality Assurance to the Academic Board and its Committees as outlined in the Academic Statute. Executive Deans, Campus Managers, and corporate and administrative managers are ultimately responsible for quality in their areas of responsibility.
- 6.3 Specific responsibilities are also outlined in institutional-wide policies.
- 6.4 UCOL also involves external academic, professional, industry and community groups in its quality assurance processes to ensure that it is maintaining quality in all aspects of its work.
- 6.5 The Academic Board formally approves the AQMS, which is endorsed by Council. The Chief Executive, who is ultimately responsible for the academic and administrative management of UCOL, is committed to its implementation.

UCOL is committed to providing leadership and advancing research, scholarship and knowledge transfer, in the belief that teaching and research are inter-dependent and benefit each other. Strategic priorities for research are focussed around the support of degree delivery and, within this context, UCOL actively encourages staff and students, especially those involved in degree-level programmes, to undertake research as a recognised part of their work or study.

The Research and Knowledge Transfer Committee is responsible for approving proposals from staff and students, including ethical approval (requiring external approval if necessary); fostering and monitoring research activity undertaken at UCOL; and developing, maintaining and monitoring the Code of Ethical Conduct and Intellectual Property policies.

11.3 Guiding principles

- 11.3.1 All research projects conducted by UCOL academic staff and graduate students, in UCOL time or involving UCOL resources, are approved by the Research and Knowledge Transfer Committee.

SELF ASSESSMENT, EXTERNAL EVALUATION AND REVIEW

12.1 The Standards

12.1.1 Internal self-assessment and external evaluation and review, and the improvements arising from such activities, are effectively managed.

12.1.2 The quality management system is reviewed and updated on a regular basis.

12.2 Introduction

UCOL is committed to self-assessment practices designed to assist with the management of quality improvement activities. The self-assessment model uses Key Evaluation Questions (KEQs) as a framework to facilitate critical reflection, analysis and informed decision making. This evidence based, outcomes focussed quality assurance approach involves capturing feedback from a number of sources, and results and actions lead to valued and measurable outcomes designed to improve educational provision. External evaluation and review will provide an independent judgement about UCOL's performance and capability.

The six Key Evaluation Questions are:

1. How well do learners achieve?
2. What is the value of the outcomes for key stakeholders, including learners?
3. How well do programme design, delivery, learning and assessment activities match the needs of learners and other relevant stakeholders?
4. How effectively are learners supported and involved in their own learning?
5. How effective are governance and management in supporting educational achievement?
6. How effectively does the TEO manage its important compliance accountabilities?

12.3 Guiding principles

12.3.1 Programmes and services will be self-assessed, evaluated and reported to the relevant Faculty Board of Educational Improvement and Academic Board. A Faculty Board of Educational Improvement summary of action plans is reported to Academic Board.

12.3.2 Suitably trained facilitators, who are independent of the programme involved, will facilitate conversations, meetings or forums for critical reflection, analysis of evidence and action planning from time to time.

12.3.3 The Academic Board may at any time institute an internal audit of any programme, service or activity to ensure academic quality is consistent with academic standards.

12.3.4 UCOL's quality systems and policies undergo regular review, revision and approval to ensure currency and relevance.

12.3.6 Organisational performance indicators, including quality indicators, are measured annually and reported in UCOL's Annual Report.
